Engineer
"Explains"
Our UFOs
Disagrees With
UA's McDonald

By JEROME A. Kincaid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The
two men who witnessed a mysterious flying object in the desert northwest of Phoenix last week have told of their experiences.

One, a 30-year-old
engineer, said he was
alarmed at the sight of
the object because he
believed it was a
military spy plane. The
other, a 21-year-old
police officer, said he
was not frightened.

Both men were on a
hike in the desert last
week when they saw the
object, which was
reported to be about 15 feet long and
approximately 7 feet
diameter.

The engineer, who
wants to remain
anonymous, said he was
alarmed at the sight of
the object because he
believed it was a
military spy plane. The
other, a 21-year-old
police officer, said he
was not frightened.

Both men were on a
hike in the desert last
week when they saw the
object, which was
reported to be about 15 feet long and
approximately 7 feet
diameter.

The engineer, who
wants to remain
anonymous, said he was
alarmed at the sight of
the object because he
believed it was a
military spy plane. The
other, a 21-year-old
police officer, said he
was not frightened.

Both men were on a
hike in the desert last
week when they saw the
object, which was
reported to be about
15 feet long and
approximately 7 feet
diameter.

The engineer, who
wants to remain
anonymous, said he was
alarmed at the sight of
the object because he
believed it was a
military spy plane. The
other, a 21-year-old
police officer, said he
was not frightened.

Both men were on a
hike in the desert last
week when they saw the
object, which was
reported to be about
15 feet long and
approximately 7 feet
diameter.

The engineer, who
wants to remain
anonymous, said he was
alarmed at the sight of
the object because he
believed it was a
military spy plane. The
other, a 21-year-old
police officer, said he
was not frightened.

Both men were on a
hike in the desert last
week when they saw the
object, which was
reported to be about
15 feet long and
approximately 7 feet
diameter.

The engineer, who
wants to remain
anonymous, said he was
alarmed at the sight of
the object because he
believed it was a
military spy plane. The
other, a 21-year-old
police officer, said he
was not frightened.